

FIRST NATIONS COMMISSION

Artist call-out

Applications close
Monday 11 June

*Vitalstatistix and TARNANTHI:
Festival of Contemporary Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Art are seeking proposals from Australian First Nations artists.*

Vitalstatistix is seeking proposals from Australian First Nations artists (solo artist or group) for a new commission. The selected work will premiere in TARNANTHI in 2019.

Artists from across artistic disciplines and career stages are invited to apply for this opportunity. You could be working in performance, dance, live art, sound art, video and other visual art; importantly your proposed project will include a live outcome/event as part of the overall work.

The selected artist or group will have around 15 months to develop the work from July 2018 – October 2019. You will receive: a $20,000 commission fee; a travel allowance; a residency opportunity at Vitalstatistix; curatorial and project management support from the Vitalstatistix and TARNANTHI teams; presentation in TARNANTHI 2019; and access to other professional support and networks.
